mail to carry between Woodford and Bennington for four years, commencing July 1. Mr. Bowles will put a good team and coach on the route and passen-gers can be carried in good style.

State Aid Commissioner Aldrich, and Town Commissioner Giles Harbour, have begun work on the highways this week. It is safe to say that a long time will not elaspe before Woodford will have as good roads as any town in the State.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in sil its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Cotarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly on the blood and inucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying he foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature is doing its work. The Cosmopolitan for May opens with an illustrated article by Walter Regan, "In the Footsteps of Dickens." The illustrations show some of the places in London which Dickens has made fa-miliar and dear, such as Mr. Boffin's house, the Red Lion, the Marsh Lock and Mill, and Lincoln's Inn. A timely article is "A Revolution in the Means of Communication," in which Prof. Elisha Gray, the inventor, describes the telautograph. IN MEMORIAM MRS. ELI TIFFANY.

IN MEMORIAM MRS. ELI TIFFANY,
At a regular meeting of the 6th Corps, W. R.C., held May S, the following resolutions were adopted:
WHERIEAS, It has been the will of our Heavenly Father to remove by death a worthy and respected member rom our organization.
Resolved, That we extend our sympathy to her family in their bereavement and orrow, which has fallen so heavily upon them through the death of a devoted wife and mother.
Resolved, While we sympatize with those who mourn, we recognize the will or the Divine Hand and how submissive to his will.
Hesolved. That we therefore commend the family of this much respected Sister to the care and protection of that ever merciful and loving Father, who is the giver of all good gifts.
Resolved, That as a further expression of our sympathy and condolence, a copy of these resolutions he forwarded to the family, and printed in the local papers.

SLADE'S OLD STORE!

I've read so much of "Cole's new store," It runs in my mind o'er and o'er. Although his rhymes are of the best,

I can't afford to let mine rest. Although my goods wont keep you warm, It surely wont do any harm To quote you price and name them o'er But stop 'ere I begin to bore,

III. My watches and my clocks are bright, And, mark my work, the time is right; My rings are new and such a sight, And as to prices they are right.

IV. Silk ribbon chains are all the go And they look neat and nobby, too. Stick pins in silver and in gold, But yet my story's not all told.

In silver ware my stock's complete And on my table it looks neat. Beads and earrings at prices low For that's the way I let them go. VI.

And they are very cheaply sold.

My opera glasses make a show As to the theatre you go, In pearl and silver, black or gold,

What is so pretty and so fine As a Wheeler & Wilson new number nine? When you are out give me a call And I will show them to you all.

On safetles the boys all ride, Just see how swift and gay they glide. "Remington" and "Traveler" take the In style and make up, and in speed. IX.

For when the question is of health Why do you care to hoard your wealth? Remain indoors and grieve and sigh While others on their wheels ride by. I've read so much of "Cole's New Store,"

It runs in my mind o'er and o'er, Although my store is not as new It's not the store I'm selling you. XI. I've said so much I'll say no more But call around at Slade's Old Store

And I'll convince you that I can Sell just as cheap as any man. Moral—Go to Slade's for clocks, jew-elry, silver ware, sewing machines and Small fruit and vegetable plants for sale. Send for price list.
